DESCRIPTION:

The objective of this course is to provide students with the basic linguistic abilities to cope with everyday situations intertwined with a basic but solid grammar backbone structure. Practice will take place in all four basic skills: listening, understanding, speaking, reading, and writing, with opportunities for self-expression in concrete situations (Realia). A specific focus will be given to build up tools to express and interact in daily context.

Intended for students with no previous structured study of Italian.

METHOD:

Presentation (introduction of new material in context), practice (a controlled practice phase to enhance listening, understanding, comprehension and expression skills) and production (activities in class and home assignments designed for less-controlled practice to enhance memorization and writing & vocabulary skills). Teaching method may incorporate visual aids such as computer, tv and listening aids such as radio to make the learning of the language enjoyable students (such as learning songs). The teacher will focus on Realia, authentic documents, and mass media as they are living daily proof of the value of language. Their authenticity, specialized vocabulary, reinforced grammatical structures, and topics of interest can help encourage interest in the target language and culture. They contain current language on all imaginable topics, and are not artificial or contrived. Also, some class time will be devoted to non-traditional activities such as role-play and drama games to be done in class and in occasional site visits so to help students gain confidence in their ability to use and experience the language in an autonomous way.

GOALS:

This full immersion course is designed to achieve the ability to use the language correctly and appropriately to accomplish communication goals corresponding to level A1 (Common European Framework of Reference for Languages). Commitment and persistence are the major factors in language learning and the instructor will be willing to help students keeping on track with short-terms goals week per week so to make them confident with communication. Feel free to meet the instructor during office hours if you need extra-explanations and practice
