1.COURSE DESCRIPTION : This course explores the main contemporary Italian authors whose works have defined and/or challenged the Italian cultural and literary identity from the beginning of the 20th century to the late 80s. Italo Svevo, Primo Levi, Cesare Pavese, Natalia Ginzburg, Anna Banti, Italo Calvino and prominent women poets such as Cristina Campo, Antonella Anedda, Patrizia Cavalli will be object of reading and analysis. Also, specific emphasis will be given to the most important cultural and literary movements in European literature such as Decadentism, Neorealism, Magic Realism, Post-modernism so to highlight the debate between Italian literary canon and avant-garde trends. The course also introduces students to the use of gender in contemporary Italian literature. The interdisciplinary approach to literary issues and analysis of various language styles and writing techniques of the works are designed to enhance students' critical competence as well as their language proficiency.

2.OBJECTIVES :

- Learn about main contemporary Italian writers/poets and literature through close-reading of novels, short-stories and poems.
- Become confident with Italian literary language & textual analysis (syntax, writing techniques)

3.METHOD: The teacher will introduce the topic of the session, as well as the topics' related Reading Assignments:. Then a debate on the reading assignments and topics analysed will follow. Audiovisual aids will be used regularly when possible.

To enhance students'active participation and learning the instructor will submit students a series of in-class exercises such as:

1. Reading comprehension of literary texts in class (specific emphasis will be given to writing techniques).
2. Role-plays based on specific issues dealt by Italian writers taken from their works. These practises are set to develop in-class discussion as well as personal elaboration of reflections upon works read individually.

4.PREREQUISITES

Students will find appropriate this class if they wish to have an initial approach to Italian Contemporary Authors.

Students majoring in Literature and Italian studies will have the opportunity to deepen into Contemporary Italian Literature

The course will be conducted in Italian. Thus, students are encouraged to use Italian in class as much as possible in order to enhance their language proficiency. However, in order to help students to understand and better appreciate the authors, Papers/Exams are in English.

5. ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION

Regular attendance and active participation is mandatory. Particularly, completing the readings and home assignments on a regular basis is paramount for the successful accomplishment of this course.

Attendance to all CSU courses is mandatory. Only two unexcused absences are allowed during the semester but more than two unexcused absences will lower your grade as follows (excused absences will be accepted for serious medical reasons or emergencies): THREE unexcused absences lower by 1.5 point your letter grades (i.e., B becomes C-); FOUR unexcused absences lower by 3 points your letter grade (i.e., A becomes D). More than FOUR unexcused absences will result in a failure of the course.

In order not to disrupt the class, punctuality is required. Students are expected to be in class at the beginning of the session hour; any delay exceeding ten minutes will be considered as absence. Dates of mid-term and final exams cannot be changed for individual travel plans or personal needs. Students should take note of the dates and hours of the midterm and final exams and plan their trips accordingly or after the final exam. It is important to inform friends and relatives about these exam dates so that no tickets are purchased for you that will interfere with these exam dates. Missing the midterm or the final exam will result in a failure of the course.

During the academic year, further material may be distributed in class by the instructor. Students who are not in class, or are absent during a session, are responsible for getting the materials from their classmates and making their own photocopies.

Note on Participation: Continuous lateness as well as leaving the class for long breaks without the instructor's permission definitely influences the evaluation of your participation. It is important that students come to class on time. Three delays/early departures will be considered as one absence. A correct, active and responsible participation is strictly recommended. During lectures, students are not allowed to use any electronic devices (cell-phones, Ipod, Blackberry etc.). Unless previously approved by the instructor, the use of the computer in class is restricted to oral presentations. Note-taking is highly recommended. Eating in class is NOT allowed. Cellular phones must be turned off or placed on silent mode during class.

6.COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

- 2 written papers (mid-term and final) They will be based either on texts, authors, genres, forms, themes or the period of the texts we read and discuss in class. In this sense, it is important to attend classes regularly and participate actively in class discussion. (5-7 pages max, MLA format) in English.
- 2 Written exams (mid-term; final) based on multiple choice and essay questions upon writers and works. In English.
- 1 Oral presentation based on one novel or collection of short stories. In Italian. (see section 6 for details)
- Home assignments submitted on a weekly basis (see below section 7 for details).

7. ORAL PRESENTATION & PAPERS

Oral Presentation (In Italian): it lasts approx. 20 minutes max. and deals with the integral reading of one novel from those listed on syllabus. The focus should be on a specific issue (motifs, characters, narrative strategies, writing techniques, social and cultural aspects, etc.) If students are interested in investigating other works from contemporary Italian authors of your interest, the instructor will be willing to help in the process.

Oral presentation should be instructive and interesting for the other students. You may want to use photos, Power Point presentation tools and/or films in your presentation. Simple reading from notes will not be accepted during the presentation. Students shall bring to class short summaries of their oral presentations, and the other students are responsible for keeping and studying them because they will be part of the exams.

Papers (in English): students will be expected to complete two (5-7 pages) interpretive essays. These essays will deal with Contemporary Italian Authors (i.e, motifs, characters, narrative strategies, writing techniques, social and cultural aspects, etc.). The instructor will also submit a suggested topics list in large advance so to help students to focus and retrieve further material. Feel free to meet the instructor during office hours or by appointment if you need help in the process. The first essay will be due no later than the date of the Midterm exam, the second no later than the date of the Final exam.

Format: MLA format; Length: (5-7 pages plus bibliography).

8.HOME ASSIGNMENTS:

You are expected to have completed the session's readings prior to coming to class and to be prepared to participate in discussions. Always bring the texts we will be discussing to class. Reading assignments will be collected in class during each session. The preparation of the assigned readings is fundamental to active participation in class discussions and will be considered as part of the class participation grade. Also, regular home assignments will be returned once a week with teacher's commentaries. Home assignments are designed to practise Italian through basic creative writing exercises and/or to train students to textual/critical analysis. These home assignments will be as following: Creative-writing exercises based and/or inspired by passages taken from authors works (2 pages max, In Italian). Analysis, comparison/contrast and other writing assignments to train your literary critical approach (2 pages max, In English/Italian).
